

CEO Roundtable of Tanzania

Ethical Leadership for Growth and Prosperity

PRESS RELEASE

The Role of Public Private Partnerships (PPPs) in Driving Economic Development

Dar es Salaam 8th May 2018: The CEO Roundtable of Tanzania (CEOrt) will host a dinner meeting with a focus on PPPs at the Hyatt Regency Kilimanjaro Hotel in Dar es Salaam this evening.

What is Public Private Partnership (PPP)?

PPP refers to a long-term partnership between the Government and Private Sector to deliver critical services for public good. PPPs aim to draw on resources and innovation from within the Private Sector to meet the needs of the public.

Why PPP?

PPPs have the ability to transform the delivery of critical public services. If structured properly, PPPs can propel mutually beneficial outcomes for the Government, private Sector and Public at large.

Economic growth and prosperity is intrinsically connected to accessible, reliable and affordable access to infrastructure, which includes: Transportation, Communication, Water and Energy. However, infrastructure development requires significant investment and capital. This investment can be mobilized through increased private sector engagement in the planning and execution of the country's socio-economic infrastructure development projects.

In line with the above, the CEOrt is pleased to welcome Mr. Nigel Whittaker, Managing Director of Songas Tanzania who will share the Songas experience on the successes and challenges in the implementation of PPPs and the pivotal role of PPs in supporting the government's industrialisation agenda.

Furthermore, recognising the important role of PPPs in driving economic development, the ensuing roundtable discussions will explore new and innovative approaches for the successful implementation of PPPs to deliver essential public services more effectively and efficiently.
